GRAYDON SPIRIT

One need not look past Gordon Graydon for the most inspiring school spirit around. Not only at Graydon's world famous spirit weeks, but it's at the sporting events. It's at the concerts. It's at the dances. It's in the classroom. It's school spirit, and Graydon just reeks with it.

WHAT IS A FRIEND? SOMEONE TO COUNT ON? SOMEONE TO TRUST? SOMEONE TO COPY HOMEWORK FROM? MUST BE. FOR WE ALL HAVE THAT SPECIAL FRIEND, THE PERSON TO HELP AND ADVISE. AND EXPLAIN TO THE APPROPRIATE TEACHER WHY YOU CAN'T MAKE IT ON TEST DAY! AND TO THIS WE SAY, THESE FRIENDSHIPS ARE WHAT GRAYDON IS ALL ABOUT!

DEDICATION

The beginning of September not only brings oo's and ah's for going back to school, but rather anticipation and hope for what the following year has in store. Graydon's emblem, "PALMA PER ARDUA", (success through hard work), holds true for many of us Graydonites in striving for our goals, dreams and plans for the future.

COMPETITIVE

Graydon is not only successful in the classroom, but we are known to be extensively involved in extracurricular activities as well. Graydon made an excellent showing at all tournaments, competitions, and games attended. These activities widely range from art and music competitions to O.F.S.S.A. championships. Mathematics contests to other various sports and activities. All of these to which Graydon presented a fine sportsmanlike attitude.

DARE TO BE DIFFERENT

ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE

GRADE 9 FUN NIGHT

Ah, teachers. We once saw them as intimidating adults, out to "get" us with homework and assignments. They may still be out to get us, but now we realize they are plain folks like ourselves, dare you say it, even ... friends? They might seem to want us to suffer in a sea of exams, but they sure have a nice way of showing it.

TEACHERS ARE PEOPLE TOO!

Isn't this my spare?

Alright Mr. Pulfer, which Smith is he?

Trick or Treat.

I don't like Mondays.

Mr. Hill, as the bullet hit.

For my next song ....

Loosen my tie, quick!

Damn, this is good!

If you're not reading, get out!

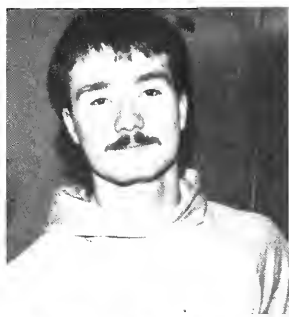

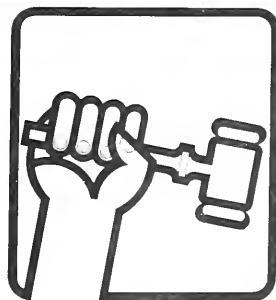

Wow, is she new in the school?

SHANE TIPPLE

Guests, parents and friends, principal and staff, fellow graduates and students of Graydon, good evening.

When I set about writing this speech, to tell you quite honestly, I encountered great difficulties. How can one express in a few words the emotions and experiences of five years? To overcome this difficulty, one afternoon I tried to put my emotions of the past into words, and what I came up with is a poem which I wish to share with you this evening:

REFLECTIONS OF A TIME GONE BY

Just as the wind blows the seeds of spring into the forests of summer,
So too, time and space have drifted us apart,
Yet each of us, now climbing our separate mountains,
Carries the green and gold of our common ancestry.
In the quiet moments of the day,
Recollections of a time past
Blossom in sweet remembrance,
Lingering for but a moment,
Only to fade into the depths of the mind.
Books alone could not have taught us all we know:
Love, compassion, friendship, trust ...
This is the fruit of the golden tree from whence we came;
It is the lasting fruit
Which will nourish us through decades,
And which will bring us together again one day.

And indeed, we have been brought together again this evening to share memories of our years here at Graydon.

It seems like only yesterday when we took our first steps into the world of High School, those days when Graydon seemed to be such a big and confusing place. Yet the school seemed to shrink, and soon it was a place that we could call our home away from home.

Naturally, the highlight of our introductory year was Niner-Minor Day, a day when the smiling grade thirteens plot to take their revenge on the innocent minors, humiliating and embarrassing them, all in the name of "good, clean fun." Fortunately, for us, however, the days of Kangaroo court and marshmallow marathons were abolished. Looking back, I'm sure that the football player who spent niner-minor day wearing a skimpy dress is much happier than his predecessor, who spent his day running around the football field with marshmallows under his arms, and a raw egg in his mouth. Today, niner-minor day has evolved into a day of fun and games, where the grade nines are made to feel as if they are a part of the large community of students that make up Graydon. This perhaps, reflects the spirit of Graydon – the feeling of comradeship and unity which is seen both in the staff, and in the students at Graydon.

Well, finally niner-minor day was over, and now, having received our proper initiation, we were full-fledged Graydonites, ready for what lay ahead. But what lay ahead, was not always what we expected. Soon enough, the days became longer, homework piled up, assignments were due, and certainly, as if this were not enough, tests were coming up. I'm sure that each of us can remember at least one occasion where the birds were up, and the sun was shining before we even got to sleep – those long nights finishing essays, or studying for exams, while at the same time drinking pools of coffee, and raiding the refrigerator. We are certainly lucky that there is such a thing as this “last minute”, for without it, much of what was assigned would never get accomplished.

As I said in my poem, though, school is not merely books and homework. Graydon has offered many other opportunities for learning, but more importantly, for enjoyment. One large part of many of our lives was involvement in extracurricular activities. These ranged anywhere from sports, to drama, to music, to student council, to a vast variety of clubs – le club français, the art club, and the list goes on catering to different interests and needs.

Involvement in such activities, however, often proved to be quite challenging; for example, early morning swim practices, or shooting practices, or perhaps band or choir rehearsals. But, not only did these coaches and club organizers wake you up at unheard of hours, they also kept you at school long after the last bells had rung, rehearsing for plays, or running suicides, or whatever. Yet, in the end, all of this dedication paid off, and very often led our teams to victories which we all be proud of – for example, the outstanding performance of our Senior Girls' Volleyball team, who won the OFSAA championships in 1985, and who came back the following year to place a close second.

Intermixed with all of this dedication and hard work, however, were many hours filled with special memories. For example, anyone who took part in the Quebec trip certainly remembers Superchicken, and The Bistro, or perhaps a few of you can remember – however vaguely, Miss Dingleby and her butler Abdul.

If time permitted, many more anecdotes of school life could be added, and it would be nice if each of us could come up and recite one such anecdote. However, the list of these special moments could probably go on almost infinitely, as one anecdote would remind us of another, and thus the cycle would continue.

One element of school life which we certainly cannot forget, is of course, the staff. How could anyone forget one of Mrs. Stevano's “quizzes”, or Mr. Thomas' award-winning performance of the Scrooge in A CHRISTMAS CAROL, or Mr. Mussen's “doughnuts” and “squiggles”, or Mrs. Thompson's, or Mr. Smith's, that is A.J.'s obsession with neatness and organization, or Mr. Phillip's interesting, to say the least, taste in clothes, or of course, the leader of the gang, “the Shadow”, our very own principal, Mr. Murray.

Five years of our lives have certainly passed by rapidly, and looking at the proud, and happy-yet-sad faces of the parents in the rapidly.

Tonight is both an end, and a beginning. We are at a transition point in our lives – caught between a past that we are reluctant to leave, and a future that we are eager to encounter.

In the days that lie ahead, we must remember the past that we shared, all of the special friends, and special moments, for, along with our parents', and our teachers' guiding, it is our positive influence on each other that has moulded us into the people that we are, and the people that we will someday be.

Good-bye for now Graydon. Au revoir, et à bientôt!

GRAYDON HITS THE SLOPES IN JACKSON HOLE, WYOMING

Jackson Hole Ski Trip

A long-standing Graydon tradition was successfully revived this March break when a group of students accompanied Ms. Newton and students from J.A. Turner S.S. to Jackson Hole, Wyoming for six days of outstanding skiing in the Rockies.

With more than 100 runs covering 2400 acres, a vertical drop of over 4,000 feet and many expert runs, Jackson was a challenge for everyone.

Morning came early in Jackson with a wake-up call at 7:00 A.M. The bus arrived at 8:00 A.M. and by 8:30 we were at Casper Bowl Halfway House for breakfast. Lots of sunshine and no lift lines kept us skiing all day. Busch Beer Company held its College Ski Week program at Jackson our week and most students entered the mountain rally, shorter races and eventually graduated themselves to ski for "U. of T." in the College Cup Race, turning in excellent times against teams from major universities across the United States.

Après ski usually started with a stint in the hot tub or a shopping trip for stetsons, cowboy boots or bargains at the Polo store in town. Despite many death-defying feats, there were only two minor injuries and both students were back on the slopes the next day. The famous "Rocky Mountain High" kept us all going, and rest time was set aside for the first week back in Mississauga. If you missed this year's trip, plan now to go West next March.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

Mr. Murray,
Principal

One of the most enjoyable experiences of my educational career has been the last 7 years at Gordon Graydon because of my many dealings with the school and the community.

The students of Graydon have a reputation for being warm, accepting and sincere. Many a time I have found myself involved in friendly conversations with students about a wide variety of subjects other than school.

As far as the Graydon staff is concerned, their professionalism and comradery make them a unique group of educators in Peel. It is because of this staff that standards and traditions have been maintained throughout the many changing faces of Graydon.

The support of parents and the larger community for the academic and extracurricular programs have impressed me over the years and provided me with many fond memories.

Part of me will always remain within the walls of Graydon, and as a famous General once said, "I will return".

YEARBOOK

EDITORS

"Help!"

The Beatles

The past few years the editor's write-up started off with some famous lyrics by some famous musician or performer. I wanted to carry on the tradition this year, and this was the first song that came into mind.

Being editor of a yearbook is a real experience. It involves hard work and dedication, but it gives something in return. For those of you who would like to learn the meanings of the words responsibility and cooperation, try working on a yearbook. After having the experience of being editor of a yearbook you feel like you've gone through everything and can take on any task. Like I said, it's a real experience.

Of course like there are good points of being an editor, there are negative points as well. Actually, what I'm trying to say is that the main ingredient for making a yearbook is to have people who want to help. Having twenty people sign a yearbook club list saying that they will help is worthless. Unfortunately that's what happens.

Anyways, the book is finished, it's yours and yes there is colour if you have not noticed already. Hope you enjoy it.

Joe Dutra
(Editor)
